

L.A. FOOD WORKS

It's said that food brings people together, and what better way for your beloved Bubbe to bond with his Auntie Anastasia than by grating and marinating together in honor of your nuptials? Gather your collective family trees at LA Food Works, a private gourmet studio that specializes in “synergistic dining”, meaning an interactive and entertaining way to enjoy a meal. An alternative to the restaurant setting, this unique gastronomic experience could be just the ice-breaker you’ve been looking for to join families together for a vibrant and memorable rehearsal dinner. Best described as a culinary adventure, up to forty guests mingle throughout the cozy, French-nouveau style home and gardens and are led by a group of instructors as they prepare a three or four-course meal, which is served in the charming indoor-outdoor dining suite. Still veering towards traditional? Full catering is available for those who prefer a less hands-on approach to dining, and custom menus may be created based on any theme imaginable, from the bride’s favorite food to a family’s heritage or even the honeymoon destination.
